

Service:

Program that allows users to purchase forward contracts for different raw materials (aluminium or steel or wood) for future month prices (July or August or September). Users can gain or lose interest which is calculated based of the length of holding of the contract and fluctuation of the world market price of the raw material.

Account Diagram:

